

WE ARE HIRING

Backend Developer (m/f/d)

innoscripta is a unique company and market leader for R&D compliance software solutions. We employ 300 highly motivated specialists from various backgrounds such as engineering, computer scientists and data analysts in Munich, Cologne, Vienna, Istanbul and Bali.

Our proprietary saas solution „Innovation Management System“ assures efficient planning, launch and administration of R&D projects. It is specifically designed to make R&D collaboration more successful and we serve business clients with as many as 60.000 employees.

Be part of a fast growing international company, which values creativity and passion for beautiful and superior software products. You can use your skills first hand to develop services and features, which have a real impact on the sustainability and innovation of tomorrow's world.

YOUR TASKS:

- Designing a relational database entities
- Building REST APIs
- Creating all kinds of logics for various server-side data manipulations
- Building API call based interconnections between the services
- Collaborative development with Git (Feature Branch workflow)
- Task management in ClickUp

MANDATORY SKILLS:

- PHP (min 3 years)
- Laravel (min 1 year)
- English language skills – Professional working proficiency
- Open-minded and passionate (with various experience or qualification)

WHAT WE OFFER:

- An exciting role to develop products and features used by clients around the world.
- Travel flatrate, work up to one month each year at any innoscripta office location.
- Based on results take over more responsibility as team or group leader in an international multi-office.
- A competitive salary and additional bonus rewards for high performance.
- Learn more about our tech stack and dream team: it.innoscripta.com

ARE YOU INTERESTED? APPLY NOW!

Send us your full application documents to kariere@innoscripta.com